

William Flesch

Professor of English
Brandeis University

William Flesch is the author of Comeuppance: Costly Signaling, Altruistic Punishment, and Other Biological Components of Fiction (Harvard, 2008), Generosity and the Limits of Authority: Shakespeare, Herbert, Milton (Cornell, 1992), and Facts on File Companion to 19th Century British Poetry (Facts on File, 2009). He teaches the history of poetry as well as the theory of poetic and narrative form at Brandeis, and is also Old Dominion Fellow of the Humanities Council, Princeton University

“Love, guilt, or reparation:
the cognitive economics of literary experience”

February 12, 2014 at 5:30pm

Brian Room | Maddock Alumni Center
38 Brown Street (Corner of George)

Sponsored by the Andrea Rosenthal Memorial Lectureship Fund and the Department of Comparative Literature

A reception will follow.